Shri Dalip Kumar s/o Shri Lachhi Ram, V.P.O. Kiarighat, District Solan, Himachal Pradesh .. Petitioner.

Versus

Managing Director, Himachal Tourism Development Corporation, Shimla .. Respondent.

Reference under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

For petitioner: Shri J. C. Bhardwaj, AR.
For respondent: Shri M. P. Vashisht, AR.

AWARD

Through this reference, the Government has sought for adjudication of a dispute relating to termination of the services of the petitioner Shri Dalip Kumar by the Managing Director, Himachal Pradesh Tourism Development Corporation.

2. The brief facts of the case are that the petitioner Shri Dalip Kumar was working as Utility Worker with the respondent on daily wages in Tourist Inn at Kiarighat. In April, 1990, he was transferred by the respondent from Tourist Inn, Kiarighat to Himachal Bhawan, New Delhi. Subsequently, the petitioner has proceeded on leave; perhaps, due to the reason that he was not happy with his transfer to Delhi. However, he had joined his duties at Himachal Bhawan, New Delhi on 11-8-1990. Thereafter, he proceeded on leave on 11-9-1990 and did not turn up to join his duties after the said leave. The respondent had thereafter issued a show cause notice to the petitioner in which he was directed to join his duties. However, the petitioner failed to join his duties despite the said notice and his services were terminated by the respondent on 13-2-1991.

3. The case of the petitioner is that his transfer to Himachal Bhawan, New Delhi was malafide one. Similarly, he has stated that the termination, in question, is illegal because neither any notice was served upon him nor he was afforded any reasonable opportunity to defend himself. Thus, he has stated that the termination, in question, be set-aside and he be re-instated with back wages.

4. On the aforesaid pleadings of the parties, following issues were framed by my learned predecessor:

- Whether the transfer of the petitioner by the respondent management is legal and justified (OPR)
- Whether the termination of the petitioner by the respondent management is legal and justified? (OPR)
- Relief.

5. Both the parties have lead evidence in support of their respective contentions. I have heard the Authorised Representatives of both the parties and have scrutinised the evidence on record. For the reasons to be recorded hereinafter, my findings on aforesaid issues are as under :—

FINDINGS:

Issue No. 1.	Yes.
Issue No. 2.	No.
Relief:	Termination set-aside. Compensation in lieu of back wages awarded.

REASONS OR DECISION

Issue No. 1:

6. The petitioner has not led any evidence to show as to how the transfer order, in question, was a mala fide one. Therefore, there is nothing on record which may go to show that the transfer, in question, was a mala fide one. Further now doubt, transfer often causes a lot of difficulties and dislocation of the family set up of the concerned employee, but, on that score the order of transfer cannot be set-aside. Therefore, unless a transfer order is a mala fide one or the same has been passed in violation of the service rules, the courts have no jurisdiction to interfere with such order of transfer. Furthermore, in a transferable post, transfer is a usual consequence and personal difficulties are matters for consideration of the department concern. In the case in hand, no doubt, the petitioner was only a daily wages worker and his transfer to Himachal Bhawan, New Delhi could have caused hardship to him, but, in the absence of any mala fide or violation of service rules, it is difficult to hold that the transfer of the petitioner was not legal and justified. As such, I am of the view that there is nothing on record to show that the transfer, in question, was a mala fide one. Thus, I hold that the transfer, in question, was legal and justified. Accordingly, this issue is decided in favour of the respondent.

Issue No. 2:

7. It is admitted case of the parties that no domestic inquiry was held in this case against the petitioner before his services were terminated. The respondent has relied upon the copy of the show cause notice which show cause notice was issued to the petitioner before his termination. On the basis of this notice, the respondent has taken the plea that the show cause notice was duly served upon the petitioner and the petitioner had failed to reply the said show cause notice and as such, the petitioner, had been given reasonable opportunity to defend himself. On the other hand, the petitioner has denied that he had received any such notice.

8. In order to determine the question as to whether the termination, in question, is legal and justified, it would be pertinent to mention here the relevant provisions of law. Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 deals with the cases of termination. It provides that no workmen employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, for the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of notice.

9. There is no denying the fact that the petitioner has been a workman of the respondent. Similarly it can also straightaway be held that Tourism Development Corporation is an industry. Further, the respondent has not taken the plea that the petitioner had not been in continuous service for not less than one year prior to his termination. This being so, the case of the petitioner clearly falls within the ambit of section 25-F ibid.

10. Advertising to the facts and circumstances of the case and evidence aforesaid on record, it may be stated that the respondent-management had not complied with the conditions of Section 25-F before the termination order, in question, was passed because neither one month's notice was served upon the petitioner nor wages in lieu of such notice were paid to the petitioner. The perusal of the contents of the show cause notice Ex. RW-1/6 would go to show that it was a notice of ten days within which the petitioner was required to file a reply. Further, even, if it is taken that the services of the petitioner were terminated after the expiry of thirty days from the date of said notice, even then there is no cogent and reliable evidence in record to prove that this show cause notice was received by the petitioner because the petitioner has categorically denied that he had received any such registered show cause notice. It was incumbent upon the respondent to have placed on record the postal receipts with respect to the delivery of the said notice to the petitioner. Since the respondent has failed to do so, it cannot be held that this notice was served upon the petitioner. Therefore, I come to the conclusion that the impugned order of termination was passed in violation of the provisions of Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. This being so, the termination, in question, is not legal and justified. Accordingly, this issue is decided against the respondent.

Relief:

11. Keeping my findings on the aforesaid issues in view, the termination order dated 13-2-1991 vide which the services of the petitioner were terminated is set-aside and the petitioner is re-instated as Utility Worker. The petitioner is awarded compensation of Rs. 10,000/- in lieu of back wages, accordingly, the respondent is directed to take back the petitioner as Utility Worker and pay him Rs. 10,000/- as compensation in lieu of back wages for the period from 10-2-1991 till he join his duty. The Reference is answered accordingly. A copy of this award be sent to the Government of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla-2 for its due publication in the official gazettee, i.e. Himachal Pradesh Rajpatra in accordance with law. A copy of this award be supplied to each of the parties, free of cost, if applied for. The parties are left to bear their respective costs. The file after its due completion be consigned to the record room.

Reference under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

For petitioner: Shri A. K. Sharma, AR.
For respondent: ex-parte

AWARD

Through this reference, the State Government has sought for determination of a dispute relating to the termination of the petitioner Shri Puran Chand. The case of the petitioner is that he had been working as junior shift Engineer in the respondent factory, since 1-7-1991 and on 8-12-1992, his services were terminated without any notice or compensation in lieu of notice. Thus the petitioner has stated that his services have been terminated in violation of Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 and this being so, the termination be set-aside and he be re-instated with full back wages.

2. On the other hand, the respondent is ex-parte because after the respondent had filed reply on 4-10-1993, it had failed to appear on 1-12-1993 and as such, the respondent was proceeded against ex-parte. In its reply, the respondent has taken the stand that the petitioner has not been a workman because he is not covered under the provisions of Section 2 (s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which defines the term "workman". It is stated that the petitioner was drawing salary exceeding Rs. 1600/- per month and he was performing managerial and supervisory functions. Thus it is stated this Court does not have any jurisdiction. It is, further mentioned that the termination, in question, was necessitated because of unavoidable circumstances. It is also stated that before termination, the petitioner was paid one month's pay in lieu of one month's notice.

3. In support of his claim, the petitioner has led evidence and has examined himself as his own witness. The petitioner has stated that at the time of termination, he was working as Junior Shift Engineer and was drawing total salary of Rs. 2245/- per month. He has further deposed that initially he was appointed as helper and thereafter, he was promoted as Junior Shift Engineer on 1-7-1991 and as Shift engineer he used to work on machine and had also been imparting training to Helpers and Diploma holders. He has also stated that he was terminated on 8-12-1992 without any notice or compensation in lieu of such notice.

4. In order to determine the question as to whether the petitioner has been workman of the respondent the provisions of Section 2 (s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 have to be taken into consideration. Section 2 (s) ibid provides that "workman" means any person employed in any industry to do any manual, unskilled, skilled, technical, operational, clerical or supervisory work for hire or reward, but it does not include any such person who being employed in a supervisory capacity draws wages exceeding Rs. 1600/- per month or exercises, functions mainly of a managerial nature.

5. Adverting to the facts and circumstances of the case and the evidence aforesaid on record, no doubt, the petitioner had been getting wages exceeding Rs. 1600/- per mensem but it remains a fact that the respondent management has failed to prove that the petitioner was performing managerial or supervisory functions because the management has failed to contest the claim of the petitioner and has not adduced any evidence in support of its reply. The petitioner has clearly stated that has been working on the machines. Further no doubt the petitioner has been imparting training to helpers and diploma holders, but, this cannot be taken to mean that he was discharging managerial or supervisory functions by doing the said work, especially when he himself had been working on machine even after his promotion as Junior Shift Engineer. In order to determine the character of the duties which were being discharged by the petitioner, it has to be seen as to what was the primary, basic or dominant nature of his duties. The word 'supervisor' as understood in Section 2 (S) supra means that the person exercising as changing supervisory functions is required to control the men and not the machines. His duty is to see how the employees will be engaged in different works of production and maintenance. Evidently, in the case in hand, the primary and basic duty of the petitioner was to work on machine. There is no evidence on record which may go to show that the duty of the petitioner was to control the workers and to see how the workers were to be engaged in different works of production and maintenance. Therefore, examining the present case from the said angle and also keeping in view the fact that the management had failed to adduce any evidence to prove that the petitioner was discharging managerial and supervisory functions, I am of the view that the petitioner was a workman because he has not been discharging any managerial or supervisory function. Thus this Court has jurisdiction to adjudicate the reference. As regards the contention of the respondent that compensation equivalent to one month's salary had been paid to the petitioner at the time of his termination, there is no evidence, at all, on record to substantiate this plea. Thus, I hold the termination of the petitioner is illegal and unjustified because the same has been done in violation of the provision of Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which provides that no workmen who has actually worked for 240 days prior to the date of his termination shall be terminated or retrenched unless he is served with one month's notice in writing specifying the reasons of his termination or is paid compensation in lieu of such notice. Accordingly I come to the conclusion that the termination of the petitioner is illegal and unjustified and as such, the same is set aside. The respondent management is directed to re-instate the petitioner. The petitioner is also awarded a compensation of Rs. 20,000/- in lieu of back wages. A copy of this award be sent to the Government of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla-2 for its due publication in the official gazette i.e. Himachal Pradesh Rajpatra in accordance with law. A copy of this award be supplied to each of the parties, free of cost if applied for. There is no order as to cost. The file after its due completion be consigned to the record room.

AWARD

Through this reference, the Government has sought for adjudication of a dispute relating to termination of services of the petitioner. The petitioner was appointed as Turner by the respondent on 27-4-1990 on fixed wages of Rs. 1050/- per month. Thereafter, the petitioner served the respondent continuously till 13-11-1991. It is stated that on 13-11-1991, the services of the petitioner were terminated by the respondent without any notice or compensation in lieu thereof.

2. On the other hand, the respondent is ex-parte because no one has appeared for the respondent despite service. However, reply of the respondent was received by post in which the respondent had taken the plea that the petitioner was not terminated, but, he had abandoned the service himself.

3. The petitioner has led ex-parte evidence in support of his claim and has examined himself as a witness. The petitioner has stated that he was appointed as Turner in the respondent's factory on 27-4-1990 on regular basis on a consolidated salary of Rs. 1050 per month and on 13-11-1991, his services were terminated by the respondent without any notice or compensation in lieu of such notice.

4. In order to determine the question as to whether the termination of the petitioner is legal or not, it would be relevant to mention here the provisions of Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which deal with the cases of termination and retrenchment. Section 25-F provides that no workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice. Further Section 25-B provides that a workman shall be said to be in continuous service for a period of one year if he has actually worked for not less than 240 days prior to his termination.

5. Adverting to the facts and circumstances of the case and the evidence aforesaid on record, it can be stated that the petitioner has been workman in the respondent factory. There is nothing on record which may go to show that the petitioner had not actually worked for 240 days prior to the date of his termination. Further, it is admitted case of the respondent that no notice was issued to the petitioner nor any compensation in lieu of such notice was paid to him because the respondent has taken the plea that the petitioner had abandoned his services himself. However, there is no dispute with respect to the fact that the petitioner had been a workman of the respondent. Therefore, it can straightway be held that the termination, in question, is illegal and unjustified because the respondent has violated the provisions of Section 25-F while terminating the services of the petitioner. However, the respondent has not contested the claim of the petitioner so as to prove that the petitioner had abandoned the services himself. Accordingly, I hold that the termination, in question, is illegal and unjustified and as such, the same is set-aside. The petitioner is re-instated. The petitioner is awarded a compensation of Rs.10,000/- in lieu of back wages. Accordingly, the respondent-management, M/s Unique Hydraulics Pvt. Ltd., Baddi, District Solan is directed to take back the petitioner as Turner and to pay him a compensation of Rs. 10,000/- in lieu of his back wages for the period from 13-11-1991 till he joins his duty. A copy of this award be sent to the Government of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla-2 for its due publication in the official gazette i.e. Himachal Pradesh Rajpatra in accordance with law. For respondent: Ex-parte.

AWARD

Through this reference, the State Government has referred the dispute regarding the termination of the petitioner, for determination by this Court.

2. The facts of the case are that the petitioner Shri Som Nath had been working as Helper since 2-8-1990 in the respondent factory and on 28-1-1992, he was terminated from service. The case of the petitioner is that his termination is illegal because neither any notice was served upon him nor any compensation was paid to him. Thus, he has stated that the termination, in question, be set-aside and he be re-instated.

3. On the other hand, the respondent had contested the claim aforesaid of the petitioner and had filed reply on 28-5-1993 in which it has been stated that he petitioner had been employee of the Contractor and he had submitted his resignation on 29-1-1992 and all his dues had been paid to him after the said resignation. Thus, it is stated that neither the petitioner had been employee of the respondent nor he was terminated.

4. On the aforesaid pleadings of the parties, my learned predecessor had framed the following issues:—

1. Whether the respondent has terminated the petitioner's services without any justification and without complying the provisions of the notice/retrenchment compensation etc. ? (OPP)
2. Whether the petitioner has resigned voluntarily ? (OPR)

3. Relief.

5. It would be relevant to mention here that after the reply was filed by the respondent no one had appeared on behalf of the respondent on 6-7-1993 and as such, respondent was proceeded against ex-parte. Subsequently, Shri Bhupinder Singh representative of the respondent had appeared on 8-10-1993 and had requested for setting-aside ex parte order dated 6-7-1993 and the said request had been allowed and thereafter, the case was fixed for the evidence of the petitioner. However, no one had appeared thereafter on behalf of the respondent and as such on 16-11-1993, the respondent was again proceeded against ex parte. The petitioner had led ex parte evidence and has examined himself as a witness.

6. I have heard Shri J. C. Bhardwaj, A. R. of the petitioner and have scrutinized, the ex parte evidence of the petitioner. For reasons to be recorded hereinafter, my findings on the aforesaid issues are as under;—

Issue No. 1 Yes.
Issue No. 2 No.
Relief. Termination set-aside.

REASONS FOR DECISION

7. Issue No. 1 & 2.—Since both these issues are inter-linked, the same have been taken up together for discussion and decision. The petitioner Shri Som Nath (PW-1) has stated that he was appointed as helper by the respondent on 2-8-1990 and thereafter, he worked continuously till 28-1-1992 on which date he was terminated without any notice of compensation. He has placed on record EX.PA. which is the temporary identification certificate. It is stated that this certificate was issued to the petitioner by the respondent. The perusal of this certificate would go to show that the petitioner Shri Som Nath was worker of the respondent. Thus, it becomes clear from the said ex parte evidence of the petitioner that the petitioner had been workman of the respondent and his services have been terminated without any notice or compensation. On the other hand, the respondent has failed to show that the petitioner was not employee of the respondent nor he was terminated by the respondent. Similarly, the respondent has failed to prove that the petitioner had resigned himself. No doubt, in the reply, which has been filed by the respondent, it is mentioned that a copy of resignation of the petitioner is enclosed, but, it remains a fact that no such copy has been filed with the said reply. It is also mentioned in the said reply that a photo-copy of the relevant page of wage register of the contractor is enclosed, but, no such photo copy has been filed with the reply. Therefore, in the absence of any evidence, it is difficult to believe that the petitioner was not employee of the respondent nor he was terminated by the respondent. For the same reason, it cannot also be held that the petitioner had resigned himself. Therefore, I come to the conclusion that the evidence aforesaid of the petitioner is sufficient to hold that the petitioner had been workman of the respondent and his services were terminated by the respondent without notice or compensation.

8. Now, it has to be seen as to whether the termination like the present one is valid in the eye of law or not. In this connection, reference may be made to Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which provides that no workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired; or the workers has been paid in lieu of such notice, wage for the period of the notice. It is further provided that such workman shall also be paid at the time of retrenchment, compensation which shall be equivalent to 15 day's average pay or any part thereof in excess of six months.

9. Adverting to the facts and circumstances of the case, in question, it is quite clear that prior to the date of termination, the petitioner had been working with the respondent for a period of more than one year and at the time of termination, neither the petitioner was given any notice nor any compensation in lieu thereof. Similarly, the petitioner was also not paid any compensation equivalent to 15 day's average pay. There is no denying the fact that the provisions aforesaid of Section 25-F are mandatory and violation thereof would render the termination illegal. Therefore, it can straightaway be held that the termination, in question, is illegal and unjustified.

10. For the reasons stated above, I hold that the termination, in question, is illegal and unjustified and the petitioner had not resigned himself. As such, the petitioner has proved issue No. 1, while the respondent has failed to prove issue No. 2. Accordingly, issue No. 1 is decided in favour of the petitioner, while issue No. 2 is decided against the respondent.

11. Relief.—Keeping my findings on the aforesaid issues in view the termination, in question, is set-aside and the petitioner is ordered to be re-instated with full back wages. The reference is answered accordingly. A copy of this award be sent to the Government of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla-2 for its due publication in the Official Gazette in accordance with law. A copy of this award be supplied to each of the parties, free of cost, if applied for. The file after its due completion be consigned to the record room.

For respondents : Ex-parte.

AWARD

1. Through this reference the State Government seeks to resolve the dispute in between the petitioner-worker and the respondent-management with respect to the termination of the petitioner by the respondent.

2. The case of the petitioner is that he was appointed as Machine Operator by the respondent in January, 1990 and thereafter he worked continuously as Machine Operator till 18-3-1992, on which date he is stated to have been terminated without any notice. The petitioner has stated that neither any inquiry was held against him nor any compensation was paid to him in lieu of notice. Thus, the petitioner has assailed the said termination.

3. On the other hand, the respondent is ex parte because despite service, the respondent failed to appear in the Court on 27-10-1993. As such, respondent has been proceeded against ex parte.

4. In support of his ex-parte evidence, the petitioner has examined himself and has stated that he was appointed as Machine Operator in January, 1990 by the respondent and thereafter he worked continuously till 18-3-1992, when he was terminated without any notice or compensation in lieu thereof. He has further stated that no inquiry was held against him and no show cause notice was given to him. Thus, the petitioner stated that the said termination is illegal and the same be set aside and he be re-instated with back wages.

5. Now, in order to determine the question as to whether the termination, in question, is justified or not, the case of the petitioner has to be examined in the light of the provisions of Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Section 25-F ibid provides that no workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice. Further, Section 25-B defines the term "continuous service". It provides that where a workman is not in continuous service for a period of one year, he shall be deemed to be in continuous service under an employer for a period of one year, if the workman during a period of twelve calendar months proceeding the date with reference to which calculation is to be made, has actually worked under the employer for not less than 240 days. The sum and substance of the said provisions of law is that if a worker has not been in continuous service for a period one year, then in order to bring his case within the term of "continuous service", he must have actually worked for a period of 240 days during twelve calendar months proceeding the date of termination.

6. Adverting to the facts and circumstances of the case, in question, and the evidence aforesaid on record, it can straight away be held that the petitioner in the present case has proved that he has actually worked for a period of 240 days during the period of twelve calendar months proceeding the date of termination. Apart from this, the petitioner has also proved that the respondent has not served any notice upon him before he was terminated nor any compensation in lieu of the said notice was paid to the petitioner. Therefore, it can clearly be held that the termination, in question, is not sustainable in the eye of law and as such, the same is not justified. Thus, I come to the conclusion that the termination, in question is illegal and unjustified and the petitioner-worker is entitled to re-instatement with back wages. Accordingly, the termination, in question, is set aside and the petitioner is ordered to be re-instated with back wages and the respondent is directed to take back the petitioner as Machine Operator and to pay him all back wages. As such, the reference stands disposed of. A copy of this award be sent to the Government of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla-2 for its due publication in the Official Gazettee i.e. Himachal Pradesh Rajpatra in accordance with law. A copy of this award be also supplied to each of the parties, free of cost, if applied for. The file after its completion be consigned to the record room.
